Even a Stanford degree couldn’t protect Nan Russell from being fired from her first professional job. Ultimately a good career move, it forced her to learn the hard way how to thrive at work as she went from a minimum wage employee to Vice President of a multibillion dollar company, spending 20 years in leadership roles.

Deciding to leave a successful career to pursue her dream to work and write from the Rocky Mountains, today Nan is helping others thrive at work (and in life).

In addition to being the author of five books, she’s a speaker, mentor, and consultant, as well as a blogger for PsychologyToday.com on “Trust: The New Workplace Currency.” Her Winning at Working column appears in numerous publications. And she was named a 100 Top Thought Leader by Trust Across America for three consecutive years.

Books by Nan S. Russell:

It’s Not About Time: How to Thrive and Get the Results You Want at Work and in Life! (2017)

Trust, Inc. | The Titleless Leader | Hitting Your Stride | Nibble Your Way to Success

Contact: Nan S. Russell | nan@nanrussell.com
406.249.7480 | www.nanrussell.com

Request availability & rates: info@nanrussell.com

Sample Speaking & Workshop Topics
Topics fall broadly into areas Nan writes about: trust, leadership, self-management, winning cultures, engagement, communication, uncommon behaviors that yield results.

- The Next Essential Skill: Self-Managing Fundamentals
- The Titleless Leader
- Trust: The New Workplace Currency
- It’s Not About Time
- How to Create a Work Culture that Will Ignite Passion, Engagement, and Innovation
- How to Make Time for What Matters to You
- Beyond the Noise: Elevating Your Communication
- Myths & Truths About Time, Busyness, Results
- Myths & Truths: What Works at Work Today
- How to Get Results When You’re Not in Charge
- Truths Every Professional Needs to Know about Engagement, Innovation, and Leadership
- Hitting Your Stride: Bringing the Best of Who You are to Your Work
- Mastering the Art of Productivity
- A Winning at Working Approach to Conflict Resolution
- Rebooting After Job Loss
- It Doesn’t Come with a Title: Uncommon-Practice Leadership

Keynotes, Workshops, Seminars, Motivational kickoffs, Conferences, Meetings, Mentoring